1. OPC Emergency Training.

a. The stop-gap IOC course designed to be given in August will be divided into two groups, one more covert than the other, to be given in a building away from CIA. The course will be a preview of the new IOC which commences September 6, and will be given chiefly by OPC personnel assigned to the IOC program. The chief instructor will be [REDACTED].

b. The stop-gap Operations Course/OPC Advanced Course of four weeks which will follow the stop-gap IOC will also be given in two sections to the same students. A schedule for this course was approved by the Committee. The chief instructor will be [REDACTED] of OPC Operations, and the instructors for the operational part of the course will be drawn from the present OSO Operations Course personnel.

c. The degree of security of the class being given away from CIA was questioned by the Committee, and the recommendation was made that a security check be made on the installation during August.

2. Fall Training Program.

a. Mr. [REDACTED] stated that it would be impossible to consider running two IOC's concurrently until December, in consideration of the limited experience of the new instructors on the IOC staff and the increased evaluation responsibility of the IOC.

25X1A9a

b. OPC urged that more IOC's be run as quickly as possible, and Mr. [REDACTED] agreed to separate the IOC's by one week instead of two, and to accommodate more students in the course than have been accepted in the BIC.

c. It was suggested by Mr. [REDACTED] that he and Mr. [REDACTED] recommend to the ADSO that the evaluation burden of IOC be lightened and that final evaluations be given only after the Operations Course.

d. The Committee was reminded that when the joint OSO/OPC IOC staff was placed under the direction of OSO, the implication was that equal numbers of OSO and OPC candidates for training would be accepted.
